

Join Us for An Evening of Hope, Love & Romance

*Poetry Reading & Creative Sharing
Event with Bartoluciano, Author of Making Love with Words
& Gentle Moments of Flight*

Come enjoy a few hours of creativity featuring the works of Bartoluciano, famed poet, and that of local poets, writers, and singers.

Bartoluciano's intimate collections are not available through bookstores, but directly shared with those he touches in his travels.

Bartoluciano

The event schedule will include an introduction and select readings from his first two books, poetry, songs and prose presented by locals, selections and analysis of his latest works, book signings and discussions with Bartoluciano.

Come meet the author and share your talents, or just relax and enjoy the creativity and inspiration. This event is a free gathering dedicated to sharing hope, love and romance.

To be scheduled into the local talent portion of the event, log onto the website and send us a copy of your work. Otherwise, bring it that night and we will try to schedule you in. We will be limited by time, though, so submitting early will assure you a spot in the formal part of the evening. Please limit your works to no more than 500 words, or 5 minutes of reading, speaking or singing.

We look forward to meeting you and dancing with the angels inside us all.

A Prince to Four Princess

You draw from me the angelic prince,
And taunt my devilish boy's tranquility,
Our passion blazes to the heavens in evidence,
And summons angels to sing through me.
From our conception, and ever since,
I have been lost to this stormy affinity...
