

"MUSING" SAMPLE

the angel inside

The following is an example of the words of encouragement and love that I send out to friends on a regular basis. I do not charge for these musings. I understand that this is my life's work, so I share freely.

YOUR ANGEL SINGING

*Today I praise passion's divinity,
Hell's undoing, Heaven's uplifting,
Swooning to your voice of tranquility,
Piercing beauty, love's promising.*

*Your lilting voice sings hope to me,
Carrying my heart to your longing,
Moving my spirit to glorious harmony,
Driving my passions to tender loving.*

*My senses awaken in our revelry,
In the depths of my silent bringing,
Dancing to your heavenly melody,
Enchanted by your Angel singing.*

Choose a new candle to light your way, a new street to renew your soul. Look to the horizon, the sun rises everyday. You have to endure a million glances to find the one in a million that moves you to the depth of your soul. With each attempt, learn to love yourself a little more. Connect along the way as much as you can. Be better in departure than worse. Both people can be better off, like you and me - friends first. A whisper of hope. A touch of romance. A light of love. Embrace peace! It is within you. I will come to hold your hand, and listen to your Angel Singing!
