love's longing

A PRINCE TO YOUR PRINCESS

You draw from me the angelic prince,
And taunt my devilish boy's tranquility,
From our conception, and ever since,
I have been lost to this stormy affinity.

Our passion blazes to the heavens in evidence,
And summons angels to sing through me.
A song written in love and etched in prints.
Painting our liberty and an elusive ecstasy.

In our birth, I could not help but wince,
You are the dance of imagination's fantasy,
Love's reward and the destiny for my prince.
Lady, come and taste with me love's reality.
